Re: United States v. Jimenez, et al, 19 Cr 856 (KMK)

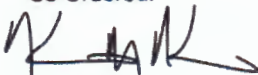

Dear Honorable Karas:

I represent Martin Dejesus Reyes-Maria in the above referenced case. I am writing to ask that you temporarily modify the terms of Mr. Reyes-Maria's release to allow him to go to the hospital with his [REDACTED]. As detailed in the attached letter, Mr. Reyes-Maria's [REDACTED] is having surgery on Friday, October 16, 2020 at Columbia University Medical Center. The hope is that his [REDACTED] will be released shortly after the surgery, but there is a chance that [REDACTED] will be admitted if complications arise. Under these circumstances, I ask that you please modify the terms of Mr. Reyes-Maria's release (home incarceration) to allow him to go to the hospital on October 16, 2020.<sup>1</sup> In the event that Mr. Reyes-Maria's [REDACTED] is admitted to the hospital, I ask that he be allowed to make daytime visits to the hospital, to be preapproved by pretrial services.

I have communicated with pretrial officer Ashley Cosme and she does not object to this request. Similarly, AUSA James Ligtenberg does not object.

Granted.

So Ordered.

10/15/20

Sincerely,

Benjamin Gold

Intensive Supervision Officer Ashley L. Cosme (via e-mail)

<sup>1</sup> I am not asking that Mr. Reyes-Maria be permitted to spend the night at the hospital.
